Conference: Equipping yourself for success - adopting a growth mindset

Duration: 1 hour
Audience: Pour tous

Summary

What if your success depended not only on developing your expertise, but above all on your ability to learn continuously?

Guided by the vision of Marie-Pier St-Hilaire, CEO of Edgenda and Harvard Business School graduate, recognized for her transformational leadership and commitment to helping organizations evolve in a rapidly accelerating digital world, this reflection becomes a powerful catalyst for growth. Her journey, marked by boldness, innovation, and a constant drive to challenge the status quo in support of human development, perfectly embodies the strength of a true growth mindset.

Through this exploration, you'll discover how to push your limits, turn challenges into opportunities, and cultivate a growth mindset every day; opening the door to learning, creativity, and fulfillment.
